

Grant from the Town of Queensbury

Plans are in progress for a video that will show our three galleries at the Shirt Factory, Glens Falls City Hall and the Queensbury Hotel in addition to the shows at Crandall Public Library in July and December. A free opportunity has been offered to NCA to show the video by Lake George TV and other venues. It can also be used on social media.

This is made possible by a $2000 grant from the Town of Queensbury. Advokate will be hired to create the video. The video will be used to advertise the shows on Lake George TV and other stations, as well as the internal video of the Queensbury Hotel, and social media, Town of Queensbury and City of Glens Falls websites.

If you have any ideas where this video can be used, for free, contact Dolores Thompson at clayconcepts@yahoo.com.

NYSCA Decentralization Grant administered by LARAC - Climate Change and the Arts

An application was made in December, 2023 to NYSCA Decentralization administered by LARAC to fund a project dealing with the effect of climate change on the environment as seen through the arts. It will entail newly composed music for a ballet and an art exhibition both of which will deal with this important subject.

NCA has received notification that it would receive $2250 toward this proposed climate change project. Since this is less than half of what was requested, it was decided only to do half of the project this year. Therefore only a newly written composition by Catherine Reid and Anthime Miller will be performed as a concert with an accompanying art exhibition with the theme Climate Change.

The concert and exhibition will be held at The Hyde Collection instead of the proposed Wood Theater. The exhibition will be in the Rotunda across from the auditorium where the concert will be performed on Sunday, Nov. 17. The exhibition will be a pop-up show from Nov. 14 through Nov. 17th. It is a special arrangement between NCA and the Hyde Collection so that we can hold the exhibition at the Hyde. Start thinking now about the subject Climate Change for the show in any medium. There will be a size limitation due to the curvature of the wall in the Rotunda.

Grants from the City of Glens Falls

NCA is still waiting to hear about its request for $2400 to advertise for one year in the 518 Profiles Magazine. We expect to hear in May. If we receive the grant we will receive three half page and seven quarter page ads in the monthly magazine as well as a six page story about NCA, its galleries and exhibitions. This magazine is distributed throughout the Capital Region to the North Country.

Please note that the 2025 City Hall 2nd Floor Gallery schedule is being assembled now. If you wish to exhibit your work in 2025, contact Robin Brewer at her email address: elizabeth122935@gmail.com. Application page 7 of this newsletter.

President's Message

Dear North Country Arts Members,

It has been a great honor and privilege to have served as President of North Country Arts. During the past six years much has been accomplished. We opened the Mezzanine Gallery on the second floor of the Queensbury Hotel and dedicated the small gallery space in our Shirt Factory Gallery to Elizabeth (Betty) O'Brien where solo shows are held during regular scheduled exhibits. The 2nd Floor, the Shirt Factory and the Friends Galleries continue to give local artists opportunities to exhibit work.

Particularly memorable happenings were the Gala, celebrating our 50th anniversary and the Covid quarantine exhibits were possible through innovation. All our events would not have been made possible without the expertise, commitment and dedication of the Board of Trustees, the Gallery Committee, the Hanging Committee, the Marketing Committee, and those members who volunteer to sit in the Shirt Factory Gallery and I thank you. As my tenure ends, I am confident that NCA will continue to flourish.

Most sincerely,
Judith Aratoli Tully

Rosie Badera

The NorthCountryArts spring exhibit at City Hall is currently running and features the beautiful acrylic and oil paintings of retired businesswoman, Rosie Badera. Rosie's position as a manufacturing company's executive gave her the opportunity to travel internationally, and when not attending to business duties she enjoyed visiting museums and collecting ceramic mugs which she loved for their beautiful artistry.

After retiring, she explored her interest in art and pottery. She attended art workshops and she also learned online. Gradually she was able to sell some of her work to friends and family. Sales increased, and now she sells art through local galleries. At her reception she gave an inspiring talk about how she successfully pursued her art interests after transitioning from the business world.

Deborah Bryk

Deborah Bryk's passion is nature photography, an interest she developed as a child. At 16, she bought a manual film camera, and when her father built her a basement darkroom she learned to develop the black and white film. Now her work is with digital photography. A Dean's List student at Fulton-Montgomery Community College, Deborah's main interest is in bird photography, especially the behavior of owls.

Through her photography, Deborah is best able to appreciate the beauty of nature and note its importance. In her work with owls, she wishes to show them living a "complicated existence," which is always on the edge of survival.

Donna Britton

As Donna Britton began photographing her husband's motorcycle, she had no idea it would be a subject in her art. The shapes, forms and lines fascinated her and motivated her to add her own motorcycle-like shapes, forms and lines to create original, imaginative compositions. She crops her compositions and uses bold, contrasting colors to create the excitement and energy of the bikes rather than realistic depictions of them.

Donna holds a BA in Art Education and an MA in Administration and Supervision; she taught Art for 31 years in Hudson Falls. She works with a variety of styles and materials: abstract design, still life, landscapes, drawing, block prints, and many others.

The abstract motorcycle acrylic paintings are her most recent pieces. In 2023 she displayed 30 motorcycle themed paintings in her show "Motorpsychedelic" at the Adirondack Lakes Center for the Arts. "Lookin for Adventure," another motorcycle themed painting, won a second place award at the Paul Nigra Center Fall/Winter Juried Show. Donna has shown her work in many galleries: LARAC, the Hyde Collection, the Paul Nigra Center, NorthWind Fine Arts Gallery among them.
